

Zoovet

Electrolyte

Zoovet Electrolyte is a water soluble electrolyte probiotic powder with enzymes, vitamins and minerals specially designed for oral rehydration in zoo and exotic species. It is highly palatable, allowing easy administration in the drinking water or by tube.

In addition to general rehydration, Zoovet Electrolyte is a valuable aid in hospital and quarantine situations, when moving animals, and during periods of stress and veterinary treatment. Its formulation helps to maintain the natural gut flora during and following antibiotic therapy and in the management of diarrhoea.

Beneficial soluble vitamins, minerals and amino acids aid supportive care, and the enzymatic action improves digestion and release of nutrients for absorption.

Zoovet Electrolyte is available from the address below packed in convenient sizes of 150g, 500g and 1.5kg. Each pack is supplied with measuring scoops allowing exactly the required amount to be reconstituted thus avoiding waste.
